Time for action on Seafield Gardens

SEATON Carnival week is in full swing and the town is eagerly awaiting this year's procession following the crowning of the 2012 Seaton Carnival Queen. The crowning ceremony was held in the Jubilee Gardens on the seafront with Seaton Town Crier David Craner presenting trophies to the Carnival Queen Anne Marie Langworthy and Princesses Matilda Gaukroge and Jessica Hill

RESIDENTS in Seaton have been given the chance decide once and for all on how Seafield Gardens should be improved and upgraded.

They were encouraged by East Devon District Council to have their say during at a three-hour voting session at an all-day Street Fayre on the Esplanade yesterday (Monday) when two options were put forward for the site of the large water feature in Seafield Gardens.

The water fountain/waterfall, which is owned and maintained by East Devon District Council, has been broken for some time. It has been in place since the 1970s and is suffering from age-related deterioration.

Not viable

The council has a budget that was originally put aside to repair the fountain, but which could now be used to provide a new feature for the area.

In September/October last year, EDDC collected ideas from the people of Seaton on how this area could be improved and better used. There were 21 suggestions, but a lot of these were very similar. Some were not viable and many of the ideas would have over-spent the relatively

Hospital job losses to be kept to 'minimum'

JOB losses will be kept to a minimum at East Devon hospitals, including Seaton, as North Devon Healthcare NHS Trust introduce new working practices.

The trust is proceeding with plans to standardise catering, porting and cleaning services at the hospitals and have indicated that some redundancies will be necessary.

The decision follows a comprehensive review and 90-day consultation with staff in the Trust's hotel services division.

"We are confident we can keep redundancies to an absolute minimum and offer new opportunities for our employees," said the Trust, Quote of the week...

“ AT A time when examination boards have responded to political pressure to reduce the number of top grades, we have seen an increase in A* grades awarded, compared to last year. This is an impressive year group who have shown high levels of self-motivation and independence.”

Colyton Grammar School headteacher Paul Evans on another impressive performance by his GCSE students.

“ THIS is another illustration of damage caused by last month's floods in Devon. I am committed to retaining a link to the east of the River Sid because it is a lifeline for locals and is essential for this section of the South West Coast Path.”

County councillor and Sidmouth Town chairman Stuart Hughes on the need for urgent repairs to Alma Bridge which links The Ham to the eastern side of the town.

“ WE recognise this has been a difficult and unsettling process for staff and are doing everything in our power to support everyone affected. We are confident we can keep redundancies to an absolute minimum and offer new opportunities to our employees.”

A spokesperson for the Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust on possible redundancies following the decision to introduce new working practices to standardise catering, portering and cleaning services in East Devon hospitals.

Tigers' home win

TWO goals from Ben Vine and singles from Sam Dibling, Alex Wheatley and substitute Tom Perryman saw Axminster Town record their first home win in 11 months.

A heavy downpour on Saturday morning resulted in surface water lying on each flank. This led to the match referee suggesting the touchline be brought in by a metre or the game be called off!

But common sense prevailed and Ax groundsman Phil Garrett and his team brushed the water away and the match kicked-off on time.

Winger Vine gave the Tigers the lead midway through the first-half with a fierce angled drive and Paul Ashford's team never looked back.

It's early days, but on this showing Axminster, boosted by the return of Ollie Hight and Wheatley from Seaton Town and Dibling and Terry Emmett from Millwey Rise, look destined for a top half finish.

Art project looks for new base

ORGANISERS behind the Webster's garage mural project in Axminster are looking for a new base after being made homeless.

Axminster Arts is driving the project and have had a studio in premises opposite the former garage on a non-commercial basis.

But the premises have been let, which means that Axminster Arts must find a new base.

Artist Steve Fisher knew that the premises could be let at any time, and said: "It's a bit of a nuisance, but we were aware it could happen."

"We have a few little irons in the fire, but nothing solid at the moment."

Project co-ordinator Tim Leat confirmed the search for a new base is in full swing, and appeared hopeful the setback won't cause a delay to the project.

He said: "Steve has bits he can do anyway."

The main worry about the lack of a base is that it could be problematic to accommodate public sessions, which were held in the studio opposite.

Mr Leat said: "Details will be made public as soon as we have them."

COLYTON

Students buck national trend

STUDENTS from Colyton Grammar School have bucked the national trend by matching last year's achievements with their GCSE results.

While the number of A* to C grades awarded nationally fell for the first time, with English grades in particular taking a hit, Colyton students were not downhearted when they collected their awards on Thursday.

A total of 88 per cent achieved at least one A* with 55 per cent receiving five or more of the coveted top grades - all the more impressive as Colyton's GCSE students take exams a year before most schools, while still in Year 10.

Headteacher Paul Evans said: "At a time when examination boards have responded to political pressure to reduce the number of top grades, we have seen an increase in A* grades awarded, compared to last year in art, biology, business studies, chemistry, French, German and music."

From the editor's chair EDDC on the move?

SO IT looks like the seat of government for East Devon will definitely be moving to Honiton which is where a good many people thought the district council should always have been based following the reorganisation of our councils back in 1974.

We report in our Sidmouth edition this week that EDDC is submitting an outline planning application for the development of its Knowle site as part of the proposal to relocate their offices in Honiton.

The council will now enter into a period of consultation with the public until September 19th.

Plans for the redevelopment of Knowle include a care home, a number of new homes with 40 per cent affordable (nice site for social housing?), car parks and an area of parkland.

It is intended that the move to Honiton will be self-financing, which is good news for the council taxpayers of East Devon.

Does anyone really care where the offices are located providing the services administeted by the council are up to scratch? I doubt it.

There's always been a belief that Sidmouth has benefited greatly by having the district council based in the town, a train of thought always vehemently denied by officers and councillors alike.

I've always maintained that the debacle of the continuing Webster's Garage eyesore in Axminster, which has been allowed to decay for over three decades, would never have been allowed to happen in Sidmouth. But no one at Knowle would dare to agree with that.

A final decision on whether to move to Honiton and redevelop Knowle will be taken by EDDC's Cabinet following the public consultation.

In these days of transparency and accountability in government, local councils have to seek the views of those they serve on virtually every major decision. I doubt whether many people feel strongly about whether the district council stays put or moves inland and that the decision has in effect already been taken.

OTTERY St MARY Bikers' reception

THE STREETS were lined with flags and banners as three youngsters, also known as the 'Brothers on Bikes' cycled through Ottery St Mary after a gruelling ride from John O'Groats, on their way to Land's End.

Despite the pouring rain, many Ottery residents turned out to support the cycling group, baking cakes, waving flags, flying banners and cheering as they cycled into the high street.

SIDMOUTH

Floods force urgent repairs to bridge

ESSENTIAL safety measures are to be carried out at Alma Bridge in Sidmouth following an inspection by Devon County Council.

The county council's bridge engineers have been monitoring the footbridge since the severe flooding in July and a detailed site investigation of the bridge piers was carried out on Monday, August 20th to examine the condition of the mudstone rock upon which the western bridge pier is founded.

The survey has raised concerns over the deterioration of the mudstone rock since it was exposed by the floods.

Proposals are now being developed to install a temporary 1.2 metre wide bridge above the existing structure which will span the full width of the River Sid.

HONITON All set for show day

ORGANISERS of the 122nd Honiton Agricultural Show are gearing up for what they hope will be the busiest and best show yet.

Having changed the original show dates from the beginning of August to this Thursday (August 30th) due to the poor weather, there were initial concerns about the much loved traditional show, but now organisers are sure that the show is set to be a success.

Wet and wild weekend attracts 400 visitors

NEARLY 400 people took advantage of the dry weather to visit East Devon District Council's Axe Estuary Wetlands, over the three days of the annual Wet and Wild Weekend.

Families took part in a wide range of wildlife themed events and enjoyed a full day's worth of activities, with many families returning for a second, or even third day.

Pond dipping in the reed bed and kick sampling in the Stafford Brook were the mainstays of the weekend and adults and children alike delighted in their finds.

These included plenty of rather frantic Water Boatman and silvery Three-spined Sticklebacks, whilst less common was the relatively gargantuan Great Diving Beetle and the spectacular Water Scorpion and Water Stick Insect, both of which look remarkably like their land-based cousins.

Art and craft activities in the classroom resulted in some weird and wonderful creations. Pebbles were turned into ladybirds with a few brush strokes and the odd coloured pipe-cleaner, whilst various types of wildlife, real and imagined, were constructed from bits of card, some paint, a length of wire and the occasional clothes peg.

Team relief

Each of the three days had special events dedicated to a particular species. Friday morning started early with a look at mammals of the marshes and various voles and shrews were found. The Countryside Team was relieved to see just how many mammals were around, showing how quickly they have recovered from the recent severe flooding.

Towards dusk, the humid conditions were ideal for flying insects and this in turn brought out the bats and at least four different species were recorded. There was also a possible fifth species and a sample of this particular animal has been sent off for DNA testing to identify what it was – so watch this space!

The humid conditions also suited moths and nearly 30 different species were recorded, including some really beautifully marked Magpie, Gold Spot and Jersey Tiger moths.

Bird ringing on the Sunday morning proved to be a chance to see some really tiny birds – Chiffchaff and Warblers that weighed in at around 7g (less than half an ounce).

Guides in the hides were on duty throughout the three days so that visitors could use telescopes and binoculars to look at the birds on Black Hole Marsh and on the muds of the River Axe. Curlew, Black-tailed Godwits and Little Egrets were numerous whilst on Sunday a couple of Wigeon must have thought winter had arrived as they appeared on the Marsh – not something they usually do until it gets colder.

small budget, so there is now just one alternative design, with the other option to retain the old fountain.

The brand new option is derived from several common ideas that have come from the community. The new design includes some amphitheatre style seating looking out to sea, tables that are also chess/ draughts tables and interpretation boards explaining something about the history of the area.

In addition to this idea from residents, Seaton Town Council has requested that repairing the existing fountain and leaving it in place should be added into the consultation. Since EDDC cannot afford maintain and fix such a large water feature if it keeps breaking down, Seaton Town Council have agreed to take it on and pay for all the water, maintenance and future repairs if this is the most popular option.

If the alternative low-maintenance option is chosen, then EDDC will continue to maintain the area.

It may be necessary to organise extra voting events depending on levels of representation at this voting event.

Jobs under threat at hospitals

HOSPITAL workers in East Devon could be facing redundancy as the NHS Trust that employs them looks to implementing new working practices.

The Northern Devon Healthcare NHS Trust is proceeding with plans to standardise catering, portering and cleaning services in community hospitals throughout the area.

The decision follows a comprehensive review and 90-day consultation with staff in the Trust's hotel services division.

The consultation looked at all options and suggestions to ensure standards for patients remain uniformly high and based on common policies, provision and training, while improving efficiency and protecting frontline services at a time of tight public spending.

Two main proposals were considered – the multi-skilling of hotel services staff and a standardised catering system with meals delivered for final preparation on site.

Feedback and proposals following the consultation were presented to the Trust's executive team.

Jac Kelly, the Trust's chief executive, said: "We conducted a thorough consultation with staff, listened to their concerns and responded to their questions.

"We recognise this has been a difficult and unsettling process for staff and are doing everything in our power to support everyone affected.

"We are confident we can keep redundancies to an absolute minimum and offer new opportunities for our employees."

Staff were updated on the consultation outcome by hand-delivered letter this week.

In the next stage of the process, each member of hotel services staff will have an individual meeting to discuss how the outcome will affect them.

The Trust is supporting those staff affected in a number of ways, including:

◆ Redeployment – some staff will be able to continue doing the same role in a different location;

◆ Ring-fenced jobs – staff will be able to transfer their skills to a different role, such as a healthcare assistant post, supported by a package of training and support;

◆ Local employer links – the Trust is liaising with local employers to secure alternative opportunities for staff;

Job workshops – staff will be given advice on completing application forms, writing CVs and preparing for job interviews.

Trade union support

All hotel services staff in community hospitals in the Trust's eastern area were involved in the consultation. The 12 hospitals involved were at Axminster, Budleigh Salterton, Crediton, Exeter Community Hospital (Whipton), Exmouth, Honiton, Moretonhampstead, Okehampton, Ottery St Mary, Seaton, Sidmouth and Tiverton.

Staff had group consultation meetings with managers and human resources, with support from trade union representatives. Staff were given the opportunity to put forward their own ideas before the plans were finalised and any alternative suggestions.

Under the changes, eastern area staff will be trained to be multi-skilled in all the hotel services functions, including cleaning, infection control, portering and catering. Having multi-skilled staff is particularly important at small community sites. Retraining will be provided to staff. The consultation included a review of our infection control and cleanliness procedures.

Some stakeholders such as GPs, patient groups and Leagues of Friends have been given the opportunity to attend food tasting sessions so they can sample the proposed meals. Further sessions will be offered in the near future.

Hotel owner speaks out about lack of business during the Olympics

CARRIE Southwell, owner of Fairwater Head Hotel in Hawkchurch, near Axminster, has spoken out about the effect the London 2012 Olympics has had on business in the area.

Carrie appeared on Jeremy Vine's BBC Radio Two programme as well as BBC Spotlight's TV news voicing the views of many local business people.

She said that local business had been damaged during the Olympic Games.

Carrie told Pulman's View that since the feature her phone hasn't stopped ringing with messages of support from colleagues and business people throughout the south-west.

She said: "For the period up to the start of the London 2012 Olympics business was good, showing growth in both the restaurant and the hotel side of our business.

"However, as soon as announcements were made warning people about traffic jams and overcrowding people were scared off.

"It was as if a tap was switched off.

Strange Experience

"This wasn't just us, it was mirrored in businesses across the region.

"What is also interesting is that the moment the games finished the tap has been switched on again.

"Our hotel and restaurant bookings are back to showing year on year growth.

"It was one of the strangest experiences I have ever known in business."

Egg farms cause misery with swarms of insects

FREE-RANGE egg farmers Herbert and James Persey caused an invasion of thousands of flies in villages near their farm at Plymtree.

Following conviction in a case brought by East Devon District Council, they could now face heavy fines when they return to court in the next few weeks for sentencing.

An expert said the infestation of house flies was the 'worst he had ever seen' as six million common houseflies were found in manure piled up under two chicken sheds.

Neighbouring residents found their homes were swarming with the flies, which got into their kitchens, fridges, food and water.

Some residents found flies in their food and drink as they ate. Others complained that their carpets were alive with layers of flies.

In a test case which is being followed around the country, the farmers denied the charges but were convicted of causing a statutory nuisance and failing to comply with an abatement notice.

Mr Persey and his son are now facing large fines for breaching the notice. They were convicted after a trial at Exeter Magistrates' Court.

EDDC's Environmental Health Service prosecuted Mr Persey and his son, who had both denied contravening the notice.

Environmental Health Officer Janet Wallace said she first started investigating the problem in 2009 after the council had received complaints over many months from residents living near the free-range egg producing farm at Plymtree. The residents also said this had been going on for many years and they were badly affected almost every summer.

Prosecuting barrister Gavin Collett said there were 9,000 chickens in the sheds. He described how the birds rarely go outside and their manure drops through slatted floors.

Mr Collett said there was an estimated three million flies under each of the two sheds, so many that it appeared there was a 'smoke, mist or fog' of flies.

Pest expert Clive Boase said it was 'the worst case' he had ever seen in 34 years of doing his job.

The Perseys will re-appear at the Exeter court for sentence at a later date. The maximum fine is £20,000.

Working together for East Devon

MEMBERS of East Devon's voluntary organisations and community groups have just a few days left to book their place at the Council's free annual event "Working Together for the Future of East Devon".

The conference on Friday, September 14th runs from 9.30am to 2.30pm at EDDC's Knowle offices in Sidmouth.

Representatives of voluntary organisations, community groups and town and parish councils are all invited to attend. The aim of the event is to improve communications between the voluntary and statutory sectors.

During the day, people will find out more about significant charity sector, health, well-being and welfare reforms that are happening nationally and how they will affect East Devon.

Councillor Jill Elson, EDDC Cabinet Member for Sustainable Homes and Communities, said: "We want to listen to people and hear about the excellent work they do in our communities. This is a great opportunity to exchange information on matters that will affect local people."

Invitations

Guest speakers include representatives from the Directory of Social Change (who provide information and training for the voluntary sector worldwide) and NHS Devon. Delegates will also have an opportunity to find out information useful for grants applications and can comment on EDDC's draft Council Tax Support scheme.

Invitations for this free event have already been sent to town and parish councils and some community and voluntary groups, but there are still a few places left. Places are limited to one per organisation/group and must be booked in advance.

Shop's doing it for the kids

AN Axminster woman has children very much in mind when she opens a new recycling shops for kids.

Karen Pethybridge will be officially opening the store on the corner of Lyme Street and George Street this Saturday, September 1st, and is hoping to bring something back for young families in the town.

After running a toy shop called Abacus Toys in the town seven years ago, Karen was forced to close following the death of her husband to look after her three boys – James, Josh and Nicholas.

Now with her boys grown up, she is looking for a new challenge. The shop will stock Karen's own children's items, but as an added twist she is also welcoming anyone to come along and donate their unwanted children's goods for charity.

From clothes, toys and bedding to pushchairs and cots, Karen and her family are hoping for as many donations as possible with 50 per cent of all profits from donated stock going directly to the Devon Air Ambulance Trust.

She explained: "After running a toy shop in the town a few years ago, I can see the need for children's goods as there is nothing here for young families.

"The reason I chose the Devon Air Ambulance Trust to donate to is that we are constantly seeing them at work all the time and they play such a vital part in this part of Devon.

"There aren't many that haven't seen the charity at work or experienced first hand how valuable their service can be.

"Once we start up we are keen to make regular donations to the air ambulance and it will be clear to all our customers where their money is going when they visit the shop.

By Laura Goldbury Noy
laura@pemedial.co.uk

"Our biggest message is that we desperately need more donations to fill the shop and are happy to take any good quality children's goods, with clothes for children up to the age of around nine, as well as any other general goods which people would like to donate for the Devon Air Ambulance Trust.

"I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Morgan York, who has kindly given us the shop unit free for the first two months whilst we establish ourselves in the town."

To find out more or to donate items, visit The Children's Recycling Shop from 9am until 1pm from Monday to Friday until its opening and then from 9am until 4.30pm from Saturday onwards.

Rain can't stop Hawkchurch Fete Week!

DESPITE uncertain weather, Hawkchurch has enjoyed a week of special events leading up to the annual village fete held yesterday (Monday).

The week kicked off last Sunday with a car treasure hunt followed by live music from local band Black Velvet and singer Oscar Everand at The Old Inn.

Also on Sunday a team took part in the Ferguson

Tractor Challenge, taking the vehicle apart and rebuilding it with residents placing bets on how long the task would take to complete.

Other activities throughout the week have included a family beetle drive, short tennis, bingo, whist drive and rounders match.

On Friday evening The Old Inn hosted a barbecue and children's disco. Despite the rain, youngsters also enjoyed a teddy bear's picnic on Saturday at St John the Baptist Church.

Children made special parachutes for the teddy bear's, with Lily Doolin from Axminster winning first place for her Olympic-theme parachute, before they were launched off the top of the bell tower.

The popular Companion Dog Show was held in the playing fields on Sunday. Local residents and visitors to the village entered their pooches in 10 classes, including waggiest tale, most appealing eyes and dog the judges would most like to take home.

This was followed by a songs of praise service at the church and quiz night at The Old Inn.

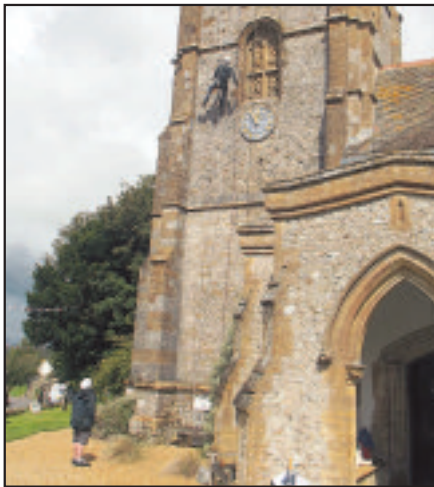

The week culminated in the annual village fete on Monday. Organisers defied the rain to host the village's biggest event of the year, full coverage of which will be in next week's Pulman's View.

■ FIRST PRIZE: Lily Doolin won first place for her Olympic-theme parachute for her teddy bear

■ PERFECT POOCHES: The annual Companion Dog Show was as popular as ever. Below, children eagerly await their teddy bears' parachute jumps from the church bell tower

■ GOING DOWN: Despite the gloomy weather, church bell ringers still went through with their abseil down the tower

EQUESTRIAN STAR IN THE MAKING: Scout Leader Nigel Groves presents Maddie White, 11, with her equestrian activity badge at Beer stables.

Beer Scout hot to trot

FOLLOWING on from the local Olympian Mary King's equestrian success in London 2012, keen horse rider, 11 year-old Maddie White has been working hard to achieve her own award.

Maddie is the first person to ever gain the Equestrian Activity Badge in the Beer Scout Group and Beer scout leaders are delighted over her success.

After having a keen interest in horses for a number of years, Maddie has shown dedication to learning how to look after the ponies as well as being able to catch and tack up a pony herself before going out on a hack.

To gain her badge Maddie also had to not only show general knowledge of horses but also knowledge of requirements for horse health, grooming and safety.

Scout leader Nigel Groves said: "Coming up to see Maddie at the yard impressed me greatly and she was very competent in getting the pony into his head collar for the picture."

"It's great to see such dedication at a young age; you never know we might be looking at the next Mary King of the future."

Maddie is now continuing to work hard to progress with her riding skills. She added: "It's great. I love riding and really enjoy working with the horses."

If you would like any information on the Beer Scouts group or would like to join, contact Nigel on 01297 21159

The children then enjoyed making and hiding under torchlight in homemade forts before tucking into ginger beer and cherry cake.

Welcoming a number of visiting steam locomotives from as far as Northern Ireland, London, Yorkshire and the Midlands, Peco's Beer site was filled to the brim with engines in full operation.

Chief Mechanical engineer, John Macdougall said: "We had around 10 trains in all in action over the week which were rotated so they all had a chance to navigate the Peco railway line and enjoy the ride up to Mount Delight and around the site."

"It is a wonderful site and a highlight for many on their annual calendar, with many visiting enthusiasts only able to operate their trains on small residential garden tracks or at model railways engineer clubs and societies."

Graham Prestwich visited Pecorama with his locomotive all the way from Yorkshire and was pleased to join in the week's activities. He said: "Pecorama is a brilliant place to drive locos on a real working railways and showcase them to their full potential."

"It is a beautiful setting, particularly with the spectacular views on Mount Delight and the whole site is wonderfully run and organised so I am very pleased to be involved."

Included at the August Bank Holiday Railway Gala was a number of double headed train rides, a Beer heights Light Railways shuttle service to the beer mine branch on Wildway Walk and radio controlled live steam model locos on the SM-32 garden railway.

Children weren't forgotten either with a whole host of children's entertainment from teddy Mac story reading and book signing from author Margaret Edmonds, colouring and plant activities.

Cream tea for the visually impaired

MEMBERS of the Seaton and District Visually Impaired Club enjoyed a summer cream tea at Colyton Methodist Church Hall.

The annual event is a much loved activity on the group's calendar giving them a chance to meet each with each other whilst enjoying sandwiches, nibbles, cakes and scones with jam and cream.

The event was supported by the Seaton and District Lions Club who kindly donated money from their local charity work to the group earlier this year.

Chair of the Seaton and District Visually Impaired Group, Joan Ayres said: "We have around 45 members in the group all from Seaton and the surrounding area and all of whom suffer with their sight in some degree."

"Events such as this are great as members have the chance to get out, meet others like them and get a well deserved break from a life that can be challenging when facing it alone."

"However they are such an interesting group and full of life and the majority get on with things regardless, with even some of the members that are in their late nineties and even aged over 100 years old, still living very independently."

The group meet regularly on the first Monday of every month at 2.30pm in St Gregory's Church Hall, Seaton, with the chance to catch up and enjoy talks from visiting speakers.

News briefs

BEER Coastguard was called to an incident where a 76-year-old man had collapsed while walking from Branscombe to Beer with friends.

The man, from Sidmouth, was assessed by the air ambulance paramedic before being airlifted to the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital for further treatment.

◆ A fishing vessel got into trouble when it was washed onto Seaton beach. Beer Coastguard safely brought the boat's skipper ashore. During the incident the fishing boat had filled with water but due to the tide dropping there was no further danger.

◆ Beer Coastguard was called to a report of a canoe drifting in the bay. On investigation they found the occupant was snorkelling near his canoe. A Coastguard spokesperson said: "This was a false alarm with good intent. We encourage anybody to call 999 and ask for the coastguard if the see or believe there are people in distress."

COLYTON'S favourite annual event is set to take over the town as of this Saturday (September 1st).

Seven days of special events organised by different local organisations are planned for Colyton Carnival Week, culminating in the Carnival Procession on Saturday, September 8th.

The week will get off to a start with the crowning of the carnival royalty by Tony Hibberd at 2pm in the Town Hall.

By Francesca Evans and the second half will be performed by the theatre group's stalwarts.

Hall nearing completion

■ NEARING COMPLETION: Work on Colyford Memorial Hall is almost finished

RENOVATIONS to Colyford Memorial Hall are nearing completion, with the re-roofing on track despite poor weather over the past few weeks.

The work has continued when the weather allowed and Andrew Hart Roofing has now completed the roof sheeting and will install the new guttering this week.

Over the weekend of August 18th and 19th a small party of enthusiastic supporters redecorated the inside of the main hall, stage and lobbies ahead of the new suspended ceiling which has now been completed with the co-operation of DJex Electrical, who have installed the new lighting.

The solar photo voltaic panel installation is in place and will help the village hall become more eco-friendly and is now generating income.

The scaffolding has started to be dismantled and RBS Scaffolding worked through heavy rain until two torrential downpours stopped them on Friday afternoon. The residents of the village can now start to see the new look Colyford Memorial Hall.

By the weekend of September 1st and 2nd the hall will have been cleaned and members of the committee will be re-hanging curtains and bringing all the furniture out of temporary storage ready for business as normal on September 3rd.

Rain fails to put off church friends

■ POURING rain failed to put off the Friends of St Michael's Church in Colyford last week. The group helped Lower Orchard Bed and Breakfast proprietor Lorrie Barnard host a cream tea on Friday. It was hoped the cream tea could be served in the bed and breakfast's large garden but instead had to be moved inside. About 40 people still attended the event, raising £138 for the Friends. Lorrie said: "Thank you to all the Friends who helped me and to all the amazing people who supported us despite the rain."

■ ROYAL OCCASION: The Queen (aka Hilary Horley) opens Dalwood Fair.

The Queen drops in on Dalwood

By Philip Evans
philip@pemediaco.uk

ROYALTY descended on Dalwood for the village's annual Fair for the first time in 667 years. And a touch of suave sophistication was added by the presence of James Bond, following his sensational appearance with Her Majesty at the opening of the Olympic Games. He even brought a parachute!

It was all part of the fun of the fair which this year was given a royal theme to commemorate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

The role of the Queen was played with great dignity by Dalwood resident Hilary Horley with David Dower, who also lives in the village, making a very sophisticated 007. The Queen and her escort paraded through the village, complete with the obligatory corgi, led by Axminster town crier Nick Goodwin and followed by Honiton Brass Band and dozens of fancy dress entrants portraying children's television characters.

After the official opening by Her Majesty, the procession made its way to Gordon's Field for the main ring attractions, sideshows and rural games and crafts.

Gym club demo
Honiton Gym Club gave a demonstration, there were a number of stalls in the main street and teas were served in the village hall.

Other fete week activities include a 10k run, a united church service, "Robin Hoodie" presented by the Corrydale Singers and a children's evening.

Proceeds from this year's fair will be divided between Devon Air Ambulance, Children's Hospice South West and Guide Dogs for the Blind with a small percentage going to supporting village organisations.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THE recent Olympic Games captured the nation's imagination so fully that it's hard to adjust to life afterwards.

We dwell a little on this briefly and we report on the opening event at St Paul's for the beginning of the Paralympics. These Games are being marked by a special service at St Paul's Cathedral at the start presided over by the Bishop of London, Rt Revd Richard Chartres. The service featured a 3-a-side wheelchair-basketball game under the Cathedral's dome and address from Baroness Grey.

In the West Country, The Devon Historic Churches Trust reminds us that The Open Churches Day 2012 will take place on Saturday, September 9th when our churches and chapels are encouraged to hold events which will generate funds. Particulars have been sent out but further information is on website www.devonhistoricchurches.co.uk

We periodically offer details of new books of church interest, but seldom feature clergy husbands! A new title "A Clergy Husband's Survival Guide," rectifies this. Matthew Caminer's wife Miriam was ordained a Deacon in 2011. This subtly affected his marriage, as friends and acquaintances became 'parishioners'. This volume is a practical and engaging guide to the joys and challenges of being married to a vicar.

The next Axminster Lunchtime Concert will be at the Minster on Thursday, August 30th and is announced as Ricky Romain and pupil. These concerts continue weekly until October 2nd.

Two reminders - Colyton Mission Community holiday club for ages 5-11 years - The King's Club - runs from August 28th-31st - enquiries 01297 552141. The Exeter Diocese consultation on its future plans has its meeting on Thursday, September 6th at 7pm in Exeter Cathedral - all invited. Questions welcome. Branscombe Church is holding a Coffee Morning in Branscombe Village Hall on Saturday, September 1st at 10.30am - in aid of church funds.

Sunday, September 9th is Racial Justice Sunday - with resources from Churches Together in Britain and Ireland which is an opportunity for all Christians in Britain and Ireland to focus their worship, prayer and action on racial justice. This year the theme is 'Being an Inclusive Church'. A Resource Pack which includes suggested hymns, prayers, reflections and activities is available to download from the Churches Together website.

PHYLLIS Baxter lives in Ottery St Mary with her husband Derek. Working at the heart of the community in the Ottery St Mary Tourist Information Centre, she plays a huge part in the town, helping residents and visitors alike.

Also a keen photographer, Phyllis is a much-recognised face in the town, always with her camera poised ready to snap the many events in Ottery.

● HOW did you end up working at The Tourist Information Centre?

I came to live in Ottery St Mary over 20 years ago from London, where I worked in the music business selling musical instruments. We had previously enjoyed many great holidays here in Ottery St Mary and as we loved the area we decided to move to Ottery.

My first job was with the local Ford Garage - Lovells of Ottery run by Mrs Joyce Lovell and her sons, Charles and Michael, and spent many happy years there and certainly got to know many of the people of Ottery. Then, a vacancy came up at The Ottery Information Centre where I became the manager. It offered a complete change of activity and presented a challenge to work with the community and with the many visitors who come from far and wide to enjoy the Ottery experience and all that we have to offer.

● WHAT do you enjoy most about working there?

The thing that I really enjoy in working at the Information Centre is that every day I can look forward to a new challenge in the kind of questions and requests for ideas that I will encounter. You just never know who is going to come through the door with questions and requests that one has never previously encountered. Hopefully they are ones that can be answered!

Ones such as "can you tell me about a shop that my relatives used in 1862"! Hopefully I don't look that old! But I do try to find an answer.

Another phoned to say that they were bringing a cruise ship to Ottery. Can you imagine sailing down the River Otter? He had actually confused the name and intended to sail in another river, towards Scotland!

● WHAT events are coming up for Ottery?

The next event will be a flower festival at the parish church named "All things bright and beautiful" which will run from Thursday, September 13th to Sunday, September 16th. It will be open from 10am until 6pm and from 12 noon on the Sunday with refreshments available.

There will also be a concert to celebrate the festival with Michael Farley, the local organist on Friday 14th at 7.30pm.

Other events will be our carnival week running from Friday, October 26th through until Wednesday 31st and also our famous tar barrels evening on Monday, November 5th.

● WHAT is your favourite event in Ottery St Mary?

This is a hard one to answer as we have such a variety of events all superb in their own way but the one that sticks in my mind is the tar barrels event as I remember seeing it when I was on holiday. At that time the carnival and the barrels were on the same day.

Now I can look at them as two separate events. You can feel the excitement building up in the town from the end of September as we look forward to the events. Both offer me a great challenge with my camera.

● DO you think community events are key to keeping the town alive?

Working in the Information Centre, I liaise very closely with all the local organisations and make sure that I get as much information from them as and when events are taking place. I now have the calendar with all of the events for 2013 - watch this space next year as two or three new events are now in the planning.

Community events are great for any town. Over the years I have seen all events here in Ottery becoming much bigger. New families that have moved into town are getting involved and bringing in new ideas. Even this Bank Holiday weekend we had another new event that will now become part of our yearly programme. I also like to attend as many as possible take photos and join in with the local community.

● WHAT do you think could be improved in the town?

What I would love to see is all the shops painted and decorated with lots of flowers everywhere, together with the bunting across the streets. People do notice, especially the holiday makers. We have a lovely town to be proud of. We also receive some wonderful comments from visitors and we also hear from new families moving in.

It makes me glad that we chose to come to live in the friendliest town in Devon.

TONY JACKSON

'Glorious landscape' ruined with panels

I AM fortunate to live in a singularly lovely part of the country and whilst in South Somerset, I'm close to both the Devon and Dorset borders. From my office window I look out upon a shallow valley, cloaked with woodland and dotted with fields and hedgerows. It is, I suppose, archetypal England, the stuff of which unfortunates who live abroad can only dream. Our village is small and surrounded by narrow, winding country lanes. A pleasant landscape and one to treasure.

Yet now there is a proposal from a solar company to build what they call a solar farm (a gross abuse of the term "farm") which will involve around seven acres of prime agricultural land being covered in dark blue solar panels in order to generate electricity for some 300 houses. The benefits applicable to this form of so-called renewable energy are, claim the company promoting this venture, a reduction on dependence on foreign oil and gas source, lower electricity prices at some time in the future, a reduction in certain gaseous emissions and improved air quality, but the real motive behind this project is to make a profit for the company by selling the electricity generated.

Currently our glorious landscape is being ruined by ghastly wind farms and now, it seems, we are to be inflicted by scores of solar panels. Where does it stop? Solar panels on roofs are perfectly acceptable and a reasonable alternative to power plants, but coating the countryside in these hideous panels is simply not acceptable. A nimby approach? Maybe, but I believe that the issues relating to the environment, in particular to wild life, the destruction of land and the unpleasant appearance of solar panels outweigh any advantages. The only real beneficiary will be the company proposing the scheme and, presumably, the land owner. The 300 hundred house owners will still be paying the same rate for their electricity.

This point of view was made very clear when two representatives from Lightsource, company involved in the proposed scheme attended a public meeting held at Tatworth Memorial Hall last Wednesday. The reception was, to put it mildly, distinctly frosty! Apparently the District Council has already been approached and this was the so-called community consultation stage but, we were assured, once a planning application has been submitted to the Council, the public will have a further chance to comment on the proposal.

The vast majority of those attending the meeting strongly voiced their opposition to the scheme, one pointing out that, contrary to the company's assertion, the proposed site was in fact very close to a Site of Special Scientific Interest (SSSI), while another wondered whether the fact that there are badger setts in the area would have any influence on the ultimate decision on whether to go ahead. It was also pointed out, forcibly, that the only access point, a very narrow, winding country lane, used by walkers, riders and local traffic, would be virtually impassable when around 30 HGV deliveries of materials to the site take place over six to eight weeks while construction takes place.

But there is also another factor to be considered . . . a health issue. It has been shown that solar panels can be a health hazard to people who suffer from electromagnetic hypersensitivity. Such people become sick from electromagnetic radiation and studies suggest that radiation coming from solar electric systems may have long-term health effects on healthy people as well.

I can assure Lightsource that if they think they are going to implement their scheme without a fight they are greatly mistaken. We do not want our particular patch of countryside ruined by this particular company's wish to make a profit. We are told that the solar "farm" is built to last at least 25 years after which time the infrastructure will be removed and the site returned to greenfield... and if you believe that you'll believe anything!

Jubilation at the Jubilympics

NINE teams entered the fray when the village of Whitford paid homage to the Olympics by staging the Whitford Jubilympics.

Locals Owen and Liam Hughes from Whitford were the official torch bearers.

Umborne Ugs caught attention early with an elaborated warm-up routine of team hugs and other motivational moves.

The closing ceremony was a great spectacle which involved synchronized swimming on land. Participants and spectators finished off with a picnic.

Independent columnist talks to garden club

MUSBURY Garden Club's third season will get off to a flying start on Monday, September 17th. Anna Pavord will be giving an illustrated talk showing how bulbs can provide year-round interest. Anna is the gardening correspondent for The Independent and the author of eight books, including bestsellers The Tulip and Bulb. She has enthusiasm, knowledge and good humour in spades.

Anna lives in Dorset. She regularly fronts programmes for BBC Radio 3 and 4. She also chairs the Gardens Panel of the National Trust and sits on the Parks and Gardens Panel of English Heritage.

Well-known in the gardening world she nevertheless considers herself a committed amateur, still learning and willing to jettison things that haven't worked!

Anna confesses to spending far more on bulbs than on clothes. This could be because she believes creating a garden gives "as valid an artistic experience as anything that Rodin felt, bashing away at his Thinker." She also loves research, making connections and journeys that haven't been made before.

The talk will take place at Musbury Village Hall at 7.30pm. Tickets are available in advance from Musbury Post Office priced at £3.50, any remaining tickets will be sold on the night for £5.

Hospicare fundraiser

A SUMMER fayre will held in Yarcombe on Saturday September 1st in aid of Hospicare.

Organised by a group of friends who are passionate about Hospicare, the event will be set within marquees at Grovelands Farm.

Debbie Luck and four of her friends have organised the event to celebrate the 30th anniversary of Hospicare. She said: "Having visited the Hospicare centre in Exeter it brings home the importance of fundraising for this very worthy cause."

Doors open at 10am and the event will close at 4pm. Admission is £3 (free for children under 12). There is plenty of free parking and limited disabled access.

Chris Rudge Renewables

RECENT Government announcements have now firmed up the future of Solar PV Feed in Tariff's (FiT). The 21p FiT rate will continue into June, you'll need to obtain an EPC certificate declaring your premises are at Energy Band D or better to qualify for the full 21p rate.

Rudge Renewables, are offering their customers a 'Get Your D for Free' offer, providing a EPC survey and certificate at no cost, which will be valid not only for a PV system after April 1st, but any other renewable technology you may want to install later!

Solar panel prices are continuing to fall, and further price drops are anticipated right through the year, making Solar PV very attractive with Return on Investment at 10% or more for southerly facing roofs. Remember though that Feed in Tariffs are due to drop again in July to a lower level, so an early installation will ensure you earn the current FiT rate.

In addition, the Government have announced an extension to the popular Renewable Heat Prepayment scheme which is offering cash payments for people installing Solar Hot Water, Heat Pumps, and Biomass (wood burning) boilers to replace fossil fuels.

Rudge Renewables are able to provide free surveys for Solar PV, Solar Thermal, Wind Turbines, Heat Pumps and Wood chip/pellet installations. With over 5 years of experience installing renewables plus an expertise in battery backed systems for customers with no mains power connection. Installation costs are always kept as low as possible for local customers.

Enjoy the Carnival Safely

COLYTON Carnival Procession has a unique atmosphere. It is popular with local residents and draws many spectators from further afield. The procession route goes through narrow streets, with the crowd coming very close to the floats and entries taking part in the procession.

The town centre and the area outside the Kingfisher Public House are always very popular viewing areas, whilst other areas such as Govers Meadow are not so busy, so why not view from there where it will not be so crowded?

Safety is the main priority of the Carnival Committee and we ask that all spectators help us by keeping a safe distance from the carnival floats. If barriers or tape are in place please stand behind them. In particular we ask that children are kept under close supervision and that they are not allowed on the road during the procession. The procession route is marshalled by volunteers and we ask for all spectators to co-operate with them.

For those wishing to go to the Fun Fair whilst the procession is in progress the committee respectfully ask that you walk behind the crowds who are watching the carnival. There is nothing more annoying than having people walking in front of you when you are trying to watch the carnival.

Thank you for your co-operation, enjoy this year's carnival SAFELY!

Win a pair of tickets to the National Home Improvement Show

THE UK's leading event for home improvers, The National Home Improvement Show, is returning for its fourth consecutive year to a new home, Olympia, London from September 28th-30th 2012.

Aimed at the serious home improver, the show brings visitors an unrivalled selection of ideas, inspiration and expert advice to help them take the next step with their home improvement project. The show has grown significantly and boasts a number of brand new features, including free interior design classes at The Design School, one to one advice at the Renewable Energy Advice Clinic and real life case studies at The Inspirational Interactive Café.

There are hundreds of exhibitors and experts for you to meet and thousands of innovative products for you to see – all packed into three days under the one roof!

Oliver Heath, star of BBC's changing Rooms' specialises in environmentally sustainable architecture and eco interiors and will be joining the celebrated line up of experts this year. He brings his years of experience to the show to provide new inspiration for visitors and to help solve people's design dilemmas.

For the first time, The National Home Improvement Show has teamed up with Susan Llewellyn, founder of The Susan Llewellyn Academy of Interior Design to bring you The Design School, which is also sponsored by Muralto furniture. This area will offer a packed programme of insightful seminars and workshops on how to create your perfect home. The Design School is supported by a dedicated Interiors Village that brings together products and services to provide those important finishing touches which will complete your project and provide that wow factor.

With increasing consumer interest in renewable energies such as heat pumps, water harvesting and solar energy, this year, the show has a dedicated feature - The Renewable Energy Advice Clinic. Visitors can talk to specialist exhibitors, obtain advice from the experts and see hundreds of products first hand.

The Inspirational Interactive Café is a new hands-on feature offering specialist top tips and real life case studies from award winning homes, easily accessible via touch screens. Hear first hand from successful renovators about their experiences, discover fantastic home designs and understand extension, conversion or home improvement process.

Due to popular demand, returning features to the show this year include the Smart Advice Clinic sponsored by CEDIA, the Kitchen and Bathroom Inspiration Zone brought to you by Kitchen Bedroom & Bathroom magazine, The Gardening and Landscaping Zone sponsored by Alec White Garden Design, live demonstrations of traditional lime plastering presented by Mike Wye & Associates, Tricks of the Trade by resident DIY Doctor, Real Homes Live Advice Centre and the Masterclass Theatre.

For the first time, the National Home Improvement show has teamed up with Centrepont, the charity that provides emergency accommodation, support, information and training for homeless young people. For every ticket purchased the National Home Improvement Show will donate £1 to Centrepont.

For more information on the show, exhibitors, seminar schedules and tickets visit www.improveyourhomeshow.co.uk or call the ticket hotline on 0844 581 0802. Tickets are £8 if booked in advance and £12 on door.

Axminster, Beer and Seaton Artists take part in Devon Open Studios 2012

ESTABLISHED artists Marie Blake of Axminster, Jane Reddington of Beer and Magie Luff of Seaton are inviting the public free access to their workplaces from the September 8th to the 23rd. They are just three among hundreds of artists opening their doors throughout Devon for the 'Devon Open Studios', the county's largest art showcase.

A visit to an artist's studio is a rare chance to observe the creative process at first hand and allows for interaction between artist and viewer. Marie a printmaker, Jane a stained glass artist and Magie a painter together provide a broad spectrum of artistic life. They look forward to welcoming you into their respective studios.

'Devon Open Studios' presents a comprehensive booklet to help visitors combine the browsing of art with the enjoyment of the county's fine scenery.

Free copies of the guide are now available at tourist information centres, libraries, galleries and bookshops or by email: devonopenstudios@gmail.com, or telephone 07768 164560.

MARIE BLAKE Painter, Printmaker

Marie has recently returned to her hometown where she looks forward to participating in the Devon Art Weeks from her new studio at 'Wickets' 4, Silver Street, Axminster.

Marie has painted since childhood and is a qualified art teacher, having taught at schools in London, Somerset, Dorset and finally at Honiton Community College in Devon; followed by a fifteen year period of organising private art tuition from her Lyme Regis studio; a business enterprise that she shared with her husband Charles Smith.

She has exhibited in New York, Germany and in London with the Royal Institute of Oil Painters, The Royal Society of Marine Artists, The New English Art Club, the Society of Women Artists as well as the Society of Graphic Fine Art of which she is a member.

Her work is figurative but with hidden imaginative references that are still influenced by the countryside of her East Devon childhood.

Versatile with all painting and drawing media she has latterly gained most satisfaction from the printmaking methods of silk screen, linocut and drypoint etching; the physical and mental demands of which never cease to excite her.

JANE REDDINGTON

Stained Glass Artist.

Jane will be taking part again after her success in last year's Devon

Art Weeks, and is looking forward to meeting visitors to her studio at The Captain's Cottage Cafe, Fore Street in Beer.

Jane's interest in stained glass began about twenty years ago, originally as an escape for a few hours a week from her role as a full time Mother of baby twins. Her passion for the art has grown with experience and the knowledge gained, and it is now her full time commitment.

She can be seen working on her Stained Glass during the 'Open Studios' event; she mainly uses beautiful mouth blown glass selected for the purity and vibrancy of colour plus the effect of movement caused by the bubbles and squiggles that arise during the blowing process. She works using the traditional techniques of assembling the leaded panels and painting on the glass with various brushes and feathers. She generally prefers contemporary images.

MAGIE LUFF Painter

Once again Magie looks forward to opening her studio for the sixteen days of Devon Open Studios at Flat 1 basement, 6 Westcliffe Terrace, Seaton.

Magie works intuitively and expressively in response to the subject, which sometimes produces a strong representation and at other times an abstract. She paints directly from observation and uses photographs as reference material. Her medium is mostly acrylic but she also works in oil, watercolour and mixed media.

She looks forward to the interaction and opportunity that the collective organisation of the Devon Open Studios provides. It is a chance for visitors to see and interact with her newest work.

Silver special guest for Jurassic Folk night

JUST two weeks after the fantastic Summer Special with Gadjo, Jurassic Folk embarks on its new season of Guest Nights with a very special songsmith, Mike Silver. Mike is a superb songwriter, masterful guitarist and captivating performer with a voice that is as warm and inviting as the fire in the fireplace on a cold winter's night. Many of his songs have become standards in the genre, such as "Old Fashioned Saturday Night", and others have crept in to the Top Twenty such as "Not a Matter of Pride" which was played widely on the radio by Terry Wogan and others.

Mike Silver's songs are of longing, love and loss, perceptive and thoughtful, with haunting melodies and heart stopping lyrics born of the soul.

Support on the night will be provided by two separate fine singers, Jennifer McAteer who is being brought along to Jurassic for the first time by Mike, and Jurassic's very own Margaret Lyons from over the border in Dorset who continues to make a big impression with her songs and singing.

As always, it all happens at the Grove, Seaton, with doors open at 7.45pm and the date is Wednesday, September 5th. Advance tickets at a modest £5 are available from the website www.eastdevonfolk.org or by phoning 01297 20064, as is any further information you may need.

And just to make sure you have it in your diary, the first Singers Night of the new season is on Wednesday, September 19th, to which all are very welcome and is, as usual, free admission.

Gadjo whip Jurassic Folk into a frenzy

JURASSIC Folk will never be the same again after the seven piece band Gadjo descended upon it on Wednesday night. From the moment they took the stage it was quite clear that the crowd was in for something very special, and they didn't disappoint. Visually a riot of colour met one's eyes, from the generously bedecked microphone stands rampant with flowers to the flamenco style skirts of Emma and raunchy bustle outfit of Fraggie. But all this would be nothing without the music, which soon had everyone up and dancing, be they youngsters, and some were very young, to middle aged and beyond. The actual music is difficult to describe as it doesn't pigeonhole very easily, but it encompassed songs in a variety of languages, dances in a variety of styles as the Cumbias were balkanised and the Skas whipped into boogaloes. A near capacity crowd showed their appreciation in no uncertain manner and as they left at the end of the evening there wasn't a single face without a smile on it.

By Peter Arnold

Two Actors, Too many Characters, One Big Ego!

THE Six Wives of Henry VIII was an undisputed hit at the Bristol Old Vic, and with live original music, embroidery, barbie dolls, silly songs and historical hysteria, it promises to be an ill-researched lesson in cross-dressing Tudor history that you'll never forget. This original play will come to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Thursday, September 6th (Tickets are £10/£9 from the Marine Theatre on 01297 442138), and is opening the new autumn season at the Bridport Arts Centre at 8pm on Saturday, September 8th (with tickets available from the box office 01308 424204 or the new website www.bridport-arts.com).

The theatre are pleased to welcome shows that have been developed at the creative centre of theatre in the South West; the Bristol Old Vic. This rip-roaring comedy will please all theatre and comedy lovers, and at just under two hours will make for a great evening out.

These talented actors developed the play together, quickly realising that Howard Coggins looks like Henry VIII. There's no escaping that. Stu McLoughlin doesn't really look like any of the wives, but he's going to give it a go.

And so Howard (Bristol Old Vic) and Stu (Kneehigh) hit upon an idea for a show which seems perfect for them. The reviews for the show when it opened in Bristol have been universally excellent and so be prepared for a hugely enjoyable evening of daft comedy, with brilliant acting and a terrific script.

Beer, Delightful Listed Period Home for £799,950

John Wood & Co

A most attractive and idyllic Grade II listed six bedroom thatched home located in the heart of the village and only a short distance from the sea.

This delightful character property is one of Beers notable historic homes and dates we believe to the 17th /18th century and has a wealth of period features throughout the spacious and flexible accommodation. Originally two properties, the house has been converted back to one principle property by the vendors, although there is the option to provide a separate granny annexe, a separate letting cottage or bed and breakfast use within the main accommodation.

Constructed with colour washed stone elevations, there are numerous beams throughout the property together with two inglenook fireplaces and a hand built oak kitchen and oak internal cottage style doors.

The accommodation includes six bedrooms, three bath/shower rooms, three reception rooms, kitchen breakfast room and utility room. There are parking spaces for three vehicles and the most appealing cottage style gardens has three summer houses and glimpses of the sea. The vendors have informed us that by repute Jack Rattenbury, Beer's famous smuggler once lived in the house.

For more information or to arrange a viewing please contact John Wood & Co on 01297 20290.

Cartographic Assistants

Salary £17,205
Based in Taunton, Somerset

The UK Hydrographic Office is the organisation behind the highly successful Admiralty brand, providing comprehensive world coverage of navigational charts, digital products and services to the mariner and international shipping.

The role provides cartographic support to mapping and charting activities that underpin the production of navigational and marine products and services. The post holder will work in support of the Operations Division and their cartographic activities in the data basing of information and creation of navigational products.

We'll be looking for a minimum of 5 GCSE/GCSE passes (or equivalent) including Maths and English, including an interest in Geography and Cartography. The ability to work accurately with graphical documents and geographic databases is essential. You should have a good aptitude for IT, including MS Office and ideally a working knowledge of a recognised GIS application. You can be expected to move to other sections and posts of the level and absorb new processes, so there is a need to be flexible and adaptable to change. Applicants invited to interview will be required to take and pass a colour blindness test.

This is a Ministry of Defence non-reserved post and is therefore open to UK, British Commonwealth and European Economic Area nationals. Successful applicants will require security clearance; you will therefore need to have resided in the UK for a minimum of 5 years.

Please visit www.ukho.gov.uk for a Cartographic Assistants information sheet and an application pack. Alternatively you can contact the Recruitment Team at the United Kingdom Hydrographic Office, Admiralty Way, Taunton, TA1 2DN tel: 01823 723353, e-mail: recruitment@ukho.gov.uk

Indian Head Massage with Wendy Fountain

WENDY'S extensive training started in 1955 in London with nursing where she worked her way up to Senior Nurse Manager. When Wendy moved down to the West Country she worked as a District Nurse with South Somerset later specialising as a Marie Curie nurse.

In her early 60s, she trained as a healer and became a highly respected trainer for the West Country Natural Healing Fellowship. It was as a volunteer for Somerset Cancer Care that Wendy observed the beneficial effects of Indian Head Massage to CAFE (Cancer Aid For Everyone) clients. Wendy works from home in Axminster using her conservatory with its bougainvilleas and restful countryside views.

Sessions usually last about an hour with clients remaining fully clothed. Wendy gently massages the pressure points on their face, neck and head.

Her unique background enables her to understand the problems her clients have, and helps them by offering compassion, healing and relaxation.

New Lexus RX 450H; high quality, low tax bills

THE new Lexus RX 450h not only brings sophistication and refinement to the luxury SUV market, its full hybrid system delivers the kind of tax savings its rivals simply cannot match. For company car drivers, the model's class leading 145g/km CO2 emissions attract a benefit-in-kind tax rating of 20 per cent, which means over a three-year period they will be paying thousands of pounds less than those who choose an equivalent BMW X5, Range Rover Sport or other premium brand model.

Taking the new RX 450h Luxury as an example, the three-year tax bill for a 40 per cent tax payer is £12,173, whereas the driver of a Range Rover Sport SDV6 SE will pay £20,549 – an additional £8,376. The new RX 450h F Sport enjoys a similarly favourable tax position, too. Full details are shown in the tables below.

The financial advantages enjoyed by RX 450h drivers are just part of the picture. The new model delivers better performance, sharper styling and even higher equipment levels than before. Owners also benefit from customer service that has been acknowledged as the best in the business, most recently in an 11th consecutive top ranking in the annual Auto Express Driver Power dealer survey.

The Luxury model is newly equipped with dark-finish 19-inch alloy wheels, a new 12-speaker audio package with DAB digital tuner and DVD player, front and rear parking sensors, an auto-dimming rear-view mirror and an HDD satellite navigation system controlled by Lexus's Remote Touch Interface, a system that is as simple and intuitive to use as a computer mouse. Other features include Eco EV, Snow and Sport selectable drive modes to maximise the efficiency of the Lexus Hybrid Drive system, a powered tailgate and eight-way electrically adjustable and heated front seats with memory setting and perforated leather upholstery.

The new RX 450h F Sport is the first RX to adopt sportier styling and handling. It's easily distinguished from the rest of the range with its stronger exterior styling, in particular the treatment of the new Lexus "spindle" grille design, and its 10-spoke F Sport alloys. Interior features include sports pedals, aluminium-effect trim inserts and scuff plates, smooth leather upholstery, an F Sport steering wheel, head-up display and a black roof lining. It also gains LED headlamps with Lexus's I-AFS adaptive system, turning the light beam in line with the vehicle's steering angle.

Entry point to the range is the RX 450h SE, with the Premier model completing the line-up, introducing elements such as more luxurious semi-aniline leather, a 15-speaker Mark Levinson audio system with six-DVD changer and a side view camera.

Nissan Micra with added elegance

- Nissan teams up with ELLE magazine to produce special edition Micra
- Features include panoramic glass roof, stylish new colours and discreet badging
- Limited run of 500 models for the UK
- Sales start 1st September, priced from £12,000

NISSAN has joined forces with the world's best-selling fashion magazine, ELLE, to develop a special version of its popular city car, the Micra.

The Nissan Micra ELLE, which goes on sale in the UK on 1st September priced from £12,000, combines stylish looks and lots of equipment.

Special features include a panoramic glass roof, chromed accents to the lower part of the grille, chrome interior door handles, 15-inch titanium grey alloy wheels, fog lamps and a roof spoiler. There are three colours available - Shiraz Red, Alabaster White and Atlas Blue - as well as a new seat fabric covering. The award-winning Nissan Connect integrated satellite navigation and infotainment system is available as an option. Discreet ELLE badges on the tailgate and front wings, front floor mats and front door guards mark out the Micra ELLE on the high street.

But that's not all. As the Micra ELLE is based on the mid-range Acenta model, it has a long list of standard equipment including automatic air conditioning, Intelligent Key for keyless entry and push button start, electrically heated and folding door mirrors, along with a speed limiter and cruise control.

Just 500 Micra ELLE models will be coming to the UK and buyers have the choice of either the 1.2-litre 80PS normally aspirated three-cylinder petrol engine or the sophisticated 1.2 direct injection supercharged (DIG-S) petrol engine, which develops 98PS yet produces just 99g/km of CO₂.

The DIG-S engine has plenty of punch for the urban jungle with 142Nm of torque and a 0-62mph time of 11.3 seconds. It also has a maximum speed of 112mph and posts combined cycle fuel economy figures of up to 68.9mpg. Both 1.2-litre engines produce emissions low enough to qualify for Nissan's 'Pure Drive' badge, given only to the cleanest cars in Nissan's line-up.

"This is far more than just a badge on a car," said Geraldine Ingham, Chief Marketing Manager for Nissan in Europe. "There is a lot of common ground between the Micra and ELLE, with both the car and the magazine appealing to very similar buyers. A hectic lifestyle means today's ultra-busy woman spends her day juggling work and leisure activities, family, friends and relationships... and she needs an ally. The Nissan Micra ELLE is that ally, helping her get through the day by being a key partner for getting around the city."

To make manoeuvring as easy as possible, for example, Micra has a best-in-class turning circle, while its 'Pure Drive' engine technology also brings fuel cost and tax savings.

"The vast majority of ELLE readers live and work in the city. They are fun, positive, stylish women, all highly individual and with the capacity to surprise... just like the Nissan Micra ELLE," said Geraldine Ingham.

New-plate September savings from Subaru

SUBARU UK has lined up some super competitive deals and customer incentives in time for the introduction of the new '62' registration plate this September. Among them is a new price for the entry model Subaru Legacy ES Nav, now available on the road for under £20,000.

At £19,995 - a £3000 saving on the list price - customers can get into Subaru ownership with a model that boasts a high level of standard specification in addition to the Subaru trademark All-wheel drive and Boxer engine technology. Standard spec on the ES Nav includes a full colour satellite navigation system with touch screen control, CD/DVD playback, integrated Bluetooth hands-free connectivity and steering wheel mounted controls.

Other standard features on the ES Nav model include automatic headlights and windscreen wipers, remote control central locking, dual zone climate control, one-touch fold down rear seats, alloy wheels, electrically adjusted driver's seat and a Thatcham category 1 alarm and immobiliser.

The ES Nav comes with Subaru's horizontally opposed 150 PS 2.0 litre Boxer petrol engine and with the choice of a six-speed manual gearbox or optional Lineartronic CVT transmission - now available for the same price as the manual version.

Many of the manufacturer's All-Wheel Drive models continue to be available with two years' interest-free credit, while higher spec models are available with one year interest free credit.

Prospective buyers are also offered the chance to take a Subaru Legacy or Outback away from the dealership for a comprehensive 24-hour test drive in order to experience for themselves the cars' many merits.

To find out more about the ultra-competitive finance offers on Subaru's range of All-Wheel Drive models, visit www.subaru.co.uk.

Alfa Romeo adds new Sportiva trim to Mito and Giulietta range

ALFA Romeo UK has just added a sporty new trim level to both the Alfa MiTo and Giulietta ranges.

The Sportiva trim is inspired by Alfa's range topping versions and combined with award-winning petrol and diesel engines, delivering customers a car with luxurious sporty looks allied to fuel efficiency and low emissions.

The compact super mini Alfa MiTo Sportiva boasts all the technology-packed features of the Distinctive trim, with a host of exciting additions, with customers benefitting from £1,500 worth of option upgrades for just £750 more OTR.

The head-turning Alfa MiTo Sportiva features exclusive 18" Quadrifoglio Verde sports alloy wheels, sports kick plates, and Sportiva badges. Inside the cabin, the theme is black and green with darkened interior headlining, and matte black steering wheel inserts accompanying a black leather steering wheel and handbrake, plus black Alcantara® sport seat upholstery – all finished with green stitching.

On Alfa Romeo's safest-in-class five door hatchback, the Alfa Giulietta, the Sportiva version builds on the already sporty Veloce trim, adding oversized red Brembo™ brake callipers mounted inside 18" spoke design alloy wheels with a dark titanium finish.

The Giulietta's signature blend of practicality and style are enhanced with sports leather upholstery plus a rear armrest with storage compartment and sport kick plates. In total, the new Sportiva trim gives the customer £3,000 worth of luxury upgrades for an additional cost of just £1,860 OTR.

The Alfa MiTo Sportiva is available with three engine options: 875cc TB TwinAir 85 bhp (£16,100 OTR), 1.4 TB MultiAir 135bhp (£17,000 OTR) and the 1.6 JTDM-2 120bhp (£17,750 OTR).

The Alfa Giulietta Sportiva is available with a choice of six engines and including the new technologically advanced twin dry-clutch semi-automatic ALFA TCT, starting at £23,110 OTR for the 1.6 JTDM-2 105bhp.

The Alfa MiTo Sportiva and the Alfa Giulietta Sportiva – each with a 5 Star Euro NCAP Safety rating – are available to order now. To find out more or to arrange a test drive, please visit www.alfaromeo.co.uk or call 0844 870 0147.

His 37pts pushed Paul Coates, 36pts into second with Richard Beard, 35pts third.

Division Two had Sam Bowyer Thornton lead the pack with 38pts ahead of Alan Booth-Seaton on count back.

Dean Bonetta's 37pts took third.

Senior Longhurst Cup

THE Seniors played their Longhurst Cup competition in mixed weather, and the last few home got a good soaking on their last holes.

Sixty nine took part in the three-ball better ball Stableford, and in the process raised £69 for the Save The Children Fund.

Senior's Captain John Discombe presented the cup to Mike Watts, Don Stroud and Tom Tinncliffe who came in with 40 points.

Also on 40 were Peter Shepherd, Ron Rogers & Ashley Murray. Angus Falconer, Pat Purtell & John Ward scored 39 points, beating Pete Morgan, Max Pipe and Alan Booth on countback.

SUNDAY STABLEFORD

BACK to the bread and butter 'handicap adjustment' games this week with the monthly Stableford and a strong contender for having an overhaul must be Division One winner Steve Bromby who continues to get regular mentions on this page.

ON THE SPOT...

Q How long have you been involved in the local football scene? Who have you played for or managed?

A I've been involved locally ever since I moved to the area in 1993. I played for Lyme Regis under 12s and 14s, then I moved to Offwell under 15s and 16s and I've been at Uplyme ever since, with the exception of a few years away at University.

Q Name the three best players you've played alongside or managed?

A I was fortunate enough to play alongside a number of very talented players at university, a number of whom played at semi-professional level. Locally though, my good friend Mark Bailey has an abundance of natural talent, and if it wasn't for injuries early in his career I'm sure he would have gone on to much bigger things within football. Alex Cottle is an outstanding talent, who could have played a much higher level, and strikers don't come more prolific than Gavin Fowler.

Q What's your favourite away ground?

A In Perry Street Division 2 we don't play at many nice grounds, but we do get the odd nice away draw in the Devon Cup. The best one I can remember was at Dawlish a few seasons ago. It's a nice big ground, we all felt a bit 'big time' playing there and loved every minute.

Q Do any games stick in your memory?

A The year before I went to university (2001-02) we (Uplyme) had a great season and won Perry Street League Division 3. I remember our last game of the season we played Seaton A at home and needed to score five to reach 100 goals for the season. We did it, won 5-0, and Rob Thomson scored that 100th goal from the penalty spot.

Q How would you improve things at Uplyme FC?

A I'd love to see a youth set-up re-introduced as no doubt that is the key to ensuring we have local lads coming to play for us and not going to neighbouring clubs. A large number of the youth team we had recently have now progressed to both the first team and reserves and have added greatly to the quality of the squad. I would also love to see the pitch levelled, if I win the lottery that's one of the first things I'll do.

Q Name some young players we should look out for in the future.

A We are blessed with a large number of talented young players at the moment, mainly thanks to the former youth side. From that group Sam Jones quickly established himself in our first team and has now progressed further and is knocking on the door of the Seaton first team in the Devon & Exeter Premier Division. Brett James and Callum Taylor have also shown they are more than capable of playing in our first team and will be playing regular first team football before long. We also have Niall Fifer, who is one of the quickest players I have ever seen, and our new signing Jake Bearpark is an exceptional talent.

Motor racing Wiscombe park Gardner's vying for top spot

THREE local drivers battle for glory at Wiscombe Park this coming weekend when they do battle in the Road-going Series Production Car category catering for vehicles with engines ranging from 1800cc to 2600cc.

Sports car drivers Dave Norman, from Exeter takes his Renault Clio into the fray against the fleet Honda Integra of Colyton's George Koopman.

As with many of the cars from this class the Honda benefits from modifications to the suspension and the engine mapping but presents as a standard car.

Joining this experienced duo in a well-supported category will be Mostyn Sherlock, from Exmouth, in his Renesis rotary (two rotors) engined Mazda RX8.

The Roadgoing Specialist division sees another Exeter man in the running for success in the form of Paul Sullivan in his Westfield SEI.

Sullivan will share the driving duties with his father John who resides in Lyme regis and does most of the preparation work on the 1600cc machine.

The Sullivan's will need to display a good turn of speed to take the premier award and dismiss the challenge of Keith Hazell in his fleet Sylva Striker and the Stuart Taylor R1 campaigned by Geoff and Philip Pearn.

Japanese four-wheel driver machinery will be well to the fore in the over 2600 c.c. division with Exeter's Simon Glover taking to the track with his Mitsubishi Evo4 inn the Saturday meeting whilst Den Conibear from Crediton will be seeking to gain the best from his turbocharged four wheel drive Nissan GTIR as he goes up against two Jaguars, a XK140 and an E Type.

Another driver from Crediton looking to add to his trophy cabinet will be sports racer pilot and civil engineer, Kevin Frost who's 1800cc Zetec powered machine will face the motorcycle engined Global GT1 of Ian Gaskell in the Sports Libre class.

Awliscombe residents Dave and Pam Gardner will be driving for a 'one-two finish' in the 1100cc. Racing Car class with their Empire 001.

The main focus for many enthusiasts will be the battle for the prestigious Fastest Time of the Day which will see Terry Graves, who has already claimed a win at Wiscombe this season, in his Gould GR37 single-seater racer face the challenge of Pilbeam MP58 mounted Rod Thorne who has scored a brace of victories this season.

Another MP58 from the over 2000cc racing car class joins the battle in the form of the three litre machine of Paul Crute.

Competitors from the large capacity racing car class usually have 'an eye over their shoulder' towards the 1100-1600 capacity split, especially if track conditions are wet or slippery when Ottery St Mary pilot Ed Hollier can be relied upon to provide some excitement in his Suzuki Hayabusa powered Pilbeam MP62.

The event organiser, the Five Clubs co-operative, will promote events on both Saturday and Sunday that will count for a number of regional championships as well as the Wiscombe park Bridge Tyres and Wheels Championship.

Admission: Saturday £7. Sunday: £7. Accompanied children under 14 FREE. Car Parking FREE. Transfer to the competitor's enclosure FREE. Catering and licenced bar available.

Wiscombe Park is situated north of Blackberry Camp and south of Farway Park. Follow the AA signs from Honiton and on the A3052.

Dalwood 10k is Fayre test

THERE were 54 finishers in the Dalwood Fayre 10k multi-terrain race and Honiton Running Club was very well represented with 16 members taking part.

This hilly and muddy race was held on the evening of Wednesday, August 13th. The race was won by Tim Lenton of local Axe Valley Runners in the very quick time of 40 minutes 21 seconds.

First in for Honiton was Ian Stewart who came a very creditable 5th overall in 42:49. Richard Harvey was next back having been followed for most of the race by Bruce Strawbridge. Richard was 11th in 48:33 with Bruce one place later in 49:11.

Tom Dunn, presently on a break home from his studies, has obviously been training as he wasn't far behind coming in 17th place in 50:18.

John Burgess was delighted with his race as he finished within seconds of last year's time in 25th place in 55:07. John had overtaken Mark Andow in the latter stages and Mark eventually finished two places behind in 56:19.

Nick Thorpe managed to come in front of Honiton's first lady, Lesley Crocker. Nick came 28th in 57:14 with Lesley two places and 23 seconds later. Dan Brett is quicker on flatter courses but he did well to come 35th in 1:01:25.

Louise Saunders has been turning up to training nights regularly recently and this has paid off as she was pleased to finish 38th in 1:04:05.

Honiton took quite a few of the remaining places with Linda Pike, Pete Lyus and Sandra Thorpe coming 44th, 45th and 46th within less than 90 seconds of each other.

Linda 1:08:01, Pete 1:08:25 and Sandra 1:09:24. The three remaining Honiton runners closely followed with Carol Turnham coming 48th in 1:11:05, Wendy Williams 49th in 1:11:16 and Jayne Barlow 51st in 1:13:35.

As usual, there was a great atmosphere at the finish with enthusiastic support for the runners crossing the line.

Plenty of tasty curry and chips were on offer as well as the usual liquid refreshments of the Tucker's Arms.

Scrum-down rugby round-up

Tough trip for Honiton

WITH KEITH JENKIN

IT'S been a pretty interesting close season, all things considered.

A very much "work in progress" England side competed well enough in South Africa and, having lost the first two tests, rallied to emerge from the final game against a strong Springbok outfit with a very creditable draw.

Our soccer cousins also did probably as well as could have been expected, given their problems both on and off the field, to reach the quarter finals of the European Championships before being eliminated by eventual finalists, Italy;

Meanwhile back in early July, Andy Murray kept many on the edge of their chairs with a good run at Wimbledon before the final proved to be a game too far.

And of course, that greatest sporting show on earth, the Olympic Games, came to these islands and certainly held me riveted throughout the early part of August.

Enough of all that!

The local rugby league season commences on Saturday and players will have been hopefully making their way to a semblance of fitness for several weeks now.

Several local sides have been promoted and one or two just missed out, and with a new team joining my flock, things look set fair for another interesting eight months.

SIDMOUTH will not look back on last season with too much affection.

A couple of off the field happenings, one unfortunate and the other tragic, certainly, to my mind, impacted on their on field performances as they ended the campaign in the bottom half of the South West Division One (West).

They have appointed a new head coach, with Jason Duff taking over the reins, and his back-up team includes the likes of Graham Bess, Bob Smith and Colin Nice, and together they will bring a wealth of rugby experience to the decision-making table.

Former England Under 21 player Alan Hubbleday takes on the first team captaincy after missing last season owing to a long-term injury; while Stuart Bickerstaff leads the second side, and Will Holland the thirds.

Given their new coaching set-up the new season will provide several imponderables as to Sidmouth's fortunes.

If all goes well they should find themselves in an improved league position at the season's end.

They have lost one or two influential players however, and may well find achieving this something of a challenge. They still have the player base to enable themselves to do so however.

HONITON, having won promotion last season, take their place in the Western Counties (West) Division, the highest standard at which the club has competed.

Last season they deservedly finished in a promotion place, just losing out on the title at the last to Tavistock, a club with close connections to a national league side. They did so by playing an open and attractive brand of rugby and, hopefully will continue in this vein.

They have however, suffered something of a set-back during the close season, losing the services of player-coach and out-half Glenn Channing. Apart from kicking their goals, he pulled a number of their strings in attack and they may find difficulty in filling his role.

They have lost one or two others also, to retirement and to long-term injury.

On the plus side however, they were a young and emerging side last season and, collectively they will be better for last year's experience.

They will not find rubbing shoulders with the more senior clubs an easy task and a place in the division's mid-table should be their aim.

Much will depend on how effectively they can fill the number 10 shirt and whether or not they can stay free from injury as a squad, for I do think that they lack depth in one or two vital positions.

The Honiton second side enjoyed a pretty good season in 2011/2012 under captain Tom Churchward.

He holds the reins again this season and I think that his side will again be competitive. As always with second side however, much will depend on the number of first team calls they sustain.

The Honiton Junior Section has in recent years, been a vital cog in the club's advancement, and it will, I think remain so.

PREVIEW

SIDMOUTH kick off the new season with a home game, and if last season's form is anything to go by, it will be a testing one.

CLEVEDON are the visitors and, although never being into a position to mount a real promotion challenge, they ended the season in the division's third place.

A lot can happen in the close season however and the Sidmouth's new backroom staff will know just how well their pre season preparations have gone by 5pm on Saturday.

HONITON face a similar initial challenge to their near neighbours, with the sole difference being that they play away from home.

They undertake one of their longer journeys when they visit ST AUSTELL who ended last season occupying fourth place in the Western Counties (West) Division.

This encounter will, I think, prove to be something of a baptism of fire for the All-hallows brigade, and they will certainly have to be at their best to return with a win.

As to the second sides, Honiton seconds entertain the Buckfastleigh first side, and will be hoping to get their season off to a winning start.

I have intimated from time to time that Honiton seconds could probably hold their own in the Devon League Division Two. Beating a division one side early in the season might just prove to be beyond them.

Sidmouth seconds also have a hard game in prospect for they visit their Devonport Services counterparts.

Hurf double in Tigers triumph

AXMINSTER Town Reserves opened their account in Devon & Exeter League Division Four with a solid 3-1 victory away at Exmouth.

With the cancellation of scheduled local cricket matches Ax were able to strengthen the side with the inclusion of ex-Chard Town striker Hurford and Matt Hewer.

Exmouth took the lead after just seven minutes with a shot that Tigers' keeper Adam Cowling could only fingertip into the net.

Four minutes later Ax were level courtesy of deflected shot from Hurford. Moments later the same player hit the inside of the post and the ball rolled agonisingly across the goal to safety.

Axminster then took control of the game and after 24 minutes took the lead through Man-of-the-Match Hurford.

After the break Axminster continued to dominate for long periods and in the 70th minute Leo Maguire wrapped the game up with a deft lob over the advancing 'keeper.

Axminster in the end ran out comfortable winners and are now looking forward to tomorrow's encounter at Seaton Town Reserves (6.30pm ko).

Tough start for Devon & Exeter league's new boys

NEW boys OPEN SPACE INTERNATIONAL had a rude awakening to life in the adult soccer world when they were blitzed 10-0 by OTTERTON in their opening match in Division 7 of the Fresha Devon & Exeter League.

OSI who have been collated together to give Asian and other nationals based locally around Exeter, a chance to see what they can do on the soccer field could not have faced a tougher opener, with Phil Thomas getting five goals.

Premier leaders NEWTOWN were held 1-1 at CLYST VALLEY, and that allowed HEAVITREE SOCIAL UNITED and ST MARTINS to join them. Heavitree were 3-0 winners at newly promoted EXMOUTH AMATEURS, while St Martins swept WILLAND RESERVES aside 6-2.

SEATON TOWN bettered TOPSHAM TOWN 3-1 with Dan Norman scoring twice, and goals were hard to come by with both 'keepers in great form.

BEER ALBION registered their first points beating a good THORVERTON side 4-2. Jamie Trewick, back after a long-term injury, was one of the Beer scorers, Andy Foster, Adam Wakely and Simon Smith adding the others.

TIVERTON TOWN RESERVES showed their intent in Division One when they crushed a sorry ALPHINGTON RESERVES 10-0. Kieran Rapo with five goals led the spree.

WITHERIDGE RESERVES were delighted with their start beating COLYTON 6-1 with Lee Radford getting a hat-trick.

OTTERY ST MARY who were in the Peninsular League just a few months ago began life with a 2-2 draw at NORTH TAWTON.

AXMOUTH UNITED were 7-1 winners against NEWTOWN THIRDS in Division 4. Charlie Clarke led the way with a hat-trick with the other goals coming from Matt Ellis (2), Asa Sandman and Juan Martin.

In division Seven newly reformed OTTERTON ST MARY RESERVES drew their first match 2-2 with visiting Lymptone.

On Thursday four mens and three ladies rinks travelled to Madeira to play a friendly game.

The ladies won 62-46 top rink G. Sykes, M. Wolf, M. Vessey and P. Whitworth they won 33-7!

AXMINSTER with David Harris

THE weather has again disrupted our fixtures.

We lost a mixed friendly at Honiton and a Devon Over 60s League game at Heavitree through rain. We also lost a home fixture to Taunton BC who were unable to raise a side.

In the two mixed friendlies played we lost 49-73 at home to Kingsteignton despite sharing the rinks – our winners being Margaret Brown, Joan Quick, and David Harris (15-12) and David Sloman, John Hill, and Ann Clayton (12-11).

We then lost 63-82 away at Wrington (Bristol) with a winning rink of Barbara Mowatt, Eve Cole, Pam Clark, and David Harris (21-13).

In the only Devon League Over 60s game played at home to Honiton we lost by just one shot in a really cracking game (34-35) – Brian Clark, John Hill, and David Harris won 18-15 whilst William Cook, Alan Taylor, and Bob Sherborne were pipped 16-20.

Axminster did well to tie with Paul Moffitt's Lyme team to share the Frank Stone Trophy played at Lyme Regis – our team was David Harris, Ann Clayton, Marion Harris, and Bob Sherborne.

I am glad to report that our Indoor Bowls rink that was recently flooded is now undergoing intensive repair work and will be ready for the new season.
